

What type of assistance is available for students with learning difficulties?

---

Educational Assistants are assigned to work with students who have learning difficulties under the supervision of both the special education/resource teacher and the classroom teacher. The frequency and amount of EA time provided is assessed on individual student need basis. The resource teacher is also available to pull out students who require a little extra help and to assist the staff with special program ideas and materials.